WITNESSES DECLARE IN COOPER TRIAL, TO

A MEETING

BLACKBALLED TO DEATH; WELCH AS PROVER

POLICEMAN SAID TO HAVE CALLOUSLY REFUSED AID TO DYING CHILD.

Augustine Lupo, an eleven-year-old Italian boy living at No. 126 Prince street, who was brutally assaulted by a female, who thought the lad was trying to steal a silver watch of lead pipe, died a little later, John H. Chase, No. 47 Essex street, Somerville, is held by the police on a charge of murder. A policeman refused to carry the boy to the hospital, according to the child's mother.

Rescued in Delirium.
The police department will investigate the case of the policeman who callously denied emergency aid to the dying lad.

"I don't give a—?" is the remark this policeman is said by Mrs. Florence of No. 126 Prince street to have made to her mother-in-law, who was sitting by the bedside of the dying child, when she asked him to carry the boy to the hospital.

Before merciful unconsciousness came to the lad he raved and shrieked in terrified delirium, fearing that the female was pursuing him again. After being locked yesterday and sent the night of the police in the house, Mrs. Florence and the policeman whom she had summoned, refused to aid the dying child.

Apparent Love.
Mrs. Florence, who is the victim of the case, devoted herself to the care of the lad, and the police, who were called to the scene, refused to aid him.

Woman Alleged to Have Warned Youth of Trouble if He Failed—Great Crowd Present at Opening of the Court To-day.

AUGUSTA, Me., April 6.—Regardless of the big snowstorm that is raging here, there is an unprecedented attendance to-day at the trial of Mrs. Alice F. Cooper, charged with the murder of Charles D. Northey. The outpouring is in anticipation of Miss Marian Carey taking the stand and the scheduled cross-examination of Miss Ruby Doe, one of the prettiest girls of Kennebec County.

Sensation after sensation followed in the trial yesterday, and the climax of interest in the prosecution's case, it is expected, will be reached at to-day's hearing. Miss Carey will tell of threatening letters written by a woman that she received, in which it was declared that something would happen to young Northey if he did not cease his attention to her.

The State will make a determined fight to get the contents of these letters into the case and also conversations between Northey and Miss Carey relative to his relationship with Mrs. Cooper and her alleged attempt to induce him to give up the girl. The defense will battle to keep all this from the jury.

Miss Doe on her direct examination told of the last public meeting of Northey and Mrs. Cooper. It was at the Baptist church at Cooper's Mills on the morning of the Tuesday on which the tragedy took place. She and Adeline Grace, who accompanied her to the church, sat immediately in front of Northey and Mrs. Cooper. They testified that Mrs. Cooper's parting injunction to the boy was: "Come next Tuesday. If you don't, you'll be sorry."

Another witness testified that Mrs. Cooper was sitting in the front of the church when she saw Northey and Mrs. Cooper leave the church together.

STATE MAY FINISH ITS CASE AGAINST MRS. COOPER TO-DAY.
The case against Mrs. Cooper is expected to be finished to-day.

MABEL PAGE'S RELATIVE SIGNS TUCKER PLEA

Authorization to attach her name to the Tucker counterclaim petition was received by Page's counsel today from Miss Mrs. Tucker.

Valley, June 4, Mass.—I have been reading the Boston American of April 6, and I believe that the article regarding the Tucker case is a fair and accurate statement of the facts.

TALKED THROUGH SERVICE.
The first call to-day tonight in jail was made by the prisoner, who was charged with another interesting case.

MISS STANLEY SAYS CITY PHYSICIAN BLACK OF LAWRENCE PROMISED TO WED HER.

Special to the Boston American.
LAWRENCE, April 6.—Said and proved. The most pathetic feature of the remarkable hearing was the appearance on the witness stand of Miss Stanley, the plaintiff in the case.

Charged With Unbecoming Conduct.
Charged with another interesting case, the woman who was charged with unbecoming conduct was brought into the courtroom.

Not for a Million.
The case against Mrs. Stanley is expected to be finished to-day.

ELSIE RAYMOND DEMANDS CHANCE TO PROVE INNOCENCE

Has Lived Under a Cloud Ever Since Death of Mattie Hackett.

Special to the Boston American.

TUESDAY, April 4.—Mrs. Elsie Raymond of Southfield doesn't believe that the death of Mattie Hackett at Bradford, the sister of whose murder has never been solved, hanged from her house and strangled almost within hearing of her father, Mattie Hackett was killed by Mrs. Raymond's son, who was arrested.

Mrs. Raymond's son has been frequently mentioned in connection with the Hackett case, though she was never questioned of the fact because she did not happen to be at home that evening. Time and time again Mrs. Raymond declared that never did she have the slightest knowledge of Mattie Hackett's death.

It has recently been announced that the grand jury would be called upon to pass on the evidence collected by the State as soon as the Cooper trial is over. Mrs. Raymond has been all the while waiting for the grand jury to call on her to tell her story, and she has never been called in the slightest degree. She is confident that she can prove her daughter's innocence, and for all time she will be cleared of the slightest suspicion.

Follows Cooper Case.

Mrs. Raymond is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hackett of this town, with her little seven-month-old son, Bertie. Thinking only of this little, first-born, she is anxious that the grand jury should be called upon to pass on the evidence collected by the State as soon as the Cooper trial is over. Mrs. Raymond has been all the while waiting for the grand jury to call on her to tell her story, and she has never been called in the slightest degree. She is confident that she can prove her daughter's innocence, and for all time she will be cleared of the slightest suspicion.

the ordeal through which she herself has had to pass. She has retained the law firm of W. J. Gilchrist & Son of Lowell, and will appear when the time comes to tell her story. She has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury.

She has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury. She has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury, and she has been very anxious to see the grand jury.

Impatient at Delay.

"They have questioned me for every hour of the ground in search of evidence against me. Now, why don't they permit me to tell my story? I have suffered," said she, "and I think the officers of the Commonwealth should have the right to hold me in suspense. It is an outrage for them to read something and then refuse to give me a chance to prove my innocence. Mattie Hackett died because she was killed by my son. They have had evidence working about continually in the case."

Fright Causes Woman's Death.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Mrs. Victoria Kory of Woodside, Queens, dropped dead of fright on Monday night at her home, 111 West 111th street. The fatal stroke was brought on by fright caused by the house of the Korys. The house was burning away and it was in a situation that in some ways is the most terrible.

THE CONTINUITY OF PURPOSE

Boyle Bros' Store AND ITS CLOTHING

AT this season of the year special clothing sales are rampant. The newspapers tell in blackest type of most extraordinary clothing bargains. Some are worth while, some are not. It is very difficult to select at special or regular prices, continuity of purpose is stamped all over it and marks its every grade.

Our quality and trade standards are the highest—we cannot fall below one iota—which, of course, is insurance and assurance to you. The majority of clothing stores show racked and badly broken assortments—and nothing selection is therefore, a hard matter.

Here you are greeted with assortments in every grade that grant the most eminent satisfaction. How pleasing to be able to get what you want in a suit of clothes at this season of the year without the annoyances of delay or irksome, irresponsible argument.
